

Alice is 6 years old and she lives in Stockholm with her family. Alice started practicing piano when she was three and a half years old. She really loves piano and music. Practicing piano has also taught Alice that perseverance plays an extremely important role in achieving perfection - not only for piano but also for many other good things in life.