

Zvezdan Vojvodić (2003, Croatia) is a student of professors Dorian Leljak and Ian Jones at the Royal College of Music in London holding a William Mealings Scholarship supported by the Cosmina and Douglas Liversidge Scholarship. He has completed his primary and high musical education in Zagreb under professor excellent advisor Ivanka Kordić. He is a winner of over 80 first and special awards at national and international competitions. During the pandemic, he participated in online competitions in various European countries where he won over 20 first prizes and was named a laureate seven times. As the laureate of the 50th "Virtuosi per musica di pianoforte" in the Czech Republic, he performed Chopin's Concerto in F minor, op. 21. He also played Bach's concerto in D minor with the Karlovac Chamber Orchestra.