

Anna Skladannaya was born in 1996 in Moscow.

With five years the study began the cello in the class of Prof. Anatoly Lukyanenko.

Under his leadership in the junior classes took part in the 6th All-Russian Open Competition of Young Performers "Ryazan 2004" – 3 prize, the contest "Magic Bow" 2005 – 3 prize, 3rd International Competition for Young Musicians Music School 2006 – 2 prize, 5th Youth Minsk 2008 Delphic Games – 3 prize, 4th International Competition Dotzauer 2009 - Diplom

Since 2010 she studied at the Central Music School at the Moscow Conservatoire Tchaikovsky and since 2013 studies at the College of Music Dresden, with Professor Emil Rovner (Master of Music).

Scholarship holder of the "Ad Infinitum Scholarship" in the season 2014-2015 and 2015-2016

Participated in Brahms-Competition in Pörtlach 2018 - Diplom

Stepindiat of the Wagner Association in Dresden in the season 2019

Stepindiat of the Wagner Association in Dresden in the season 2019

Has won trial of the Young German Philharmonie (Junge Deutsche Philharmonie) and since 2019 is an official member.

She has participated in master classes, competitions and festivals in Spain, Österreich, Russia and Italy. Master classes and lessons with Maria Kliegel, Wen Sinn Yang, Peter Bruns, Stephan Forck, Jelius Berger, Danjulo Izhibaka, Asier Polo, Giovanni Sollima, Alexander Buzlov, Georgy Gusev, Oliver Wenhold and Emil Rovner.

In June 2019, the 1st prize was awarded at the Allrussian Orchestra Artist Competition in Moscow.

Shortly thereafter, an Praktikant position in the WDR Funkhausorchester Köln was won.

In August 2019, the 3rd prize was awarded at Vivaldi Competition in Vienna.

In July 2020 was recorded in Bachelor of Composition (Hochschule in Dresden).

Anna regularly gives solo and chamber music concerts and master classes.